Jim Hansen Joins TMG Financial Services, Two Board Members Added

Des Moines, Iowa – February 22, 2010 – Jim Hansen has joined TMG Financial Services as vice president of capital acquisition.

“As our company continues to grow so does the demand for our Collateralized Advanced Program,” said Jeff Russell, president and CEO of TMG Financial Services. “Jim brings valuable experience and the skills necessary to successfully manage and build relationships with our CAP and equity partners.”

Prior to joining TMGFS, Hansen was president and CEO of VACORP Federal Credit Union in Lynchburg, VA. He also held positions at RSM McGladrey in San Francisco and Southeast Corporate Federal Credit Union in Tallahassee, FL.

“This is an exciting opportunity both professionally and personally. TMG Financial Services is a progressive organization that understands the needs of credit unions and has crafted a competitive card solution that truly demonstrates what partnering means,” Hansen said. “Personally, this is a bit of a homecoming. I have family in the area, and it will be great to be nearer to them than I have been in a long time.”

In other TMG Financial Services news, Nick Evens from The Veridian Group (the CUSO holding company of Veridian Credit Union) in Waterloo, Iowa and Ron Hance from Heritage Family Credit Union in Rutland, Vermont joined the board of directors effective January 2010.

“Both credit unions are valuable partners of TMG Financial Services, and we are pleased to have them represented on our board,” Russell said. “Both Ron and Nick offer insight and guidance built from a deep understanding of the credit union industry, and we look forward to working with them.”

Also at the December board meeting, Warren Mueller from MEMBERS1st Credit Union retired from the board after serving since TMG Financial Services was formed in 2007.

“Warren has been invaluable in his service to our company. While he might be retiring from the board of directors, he remains a valued client and investor,” Russell said.
